CONCORD, NEW HAMPSHIRE MAN SENTENCED FOR COCAINE DISTRIBUTION AND CONSPIRACY

CONCORD, NEW HAMPSHIRE: United States Attorney Tom Colantuono, Resident Agent in Charge of the Drug Enforcement Administration Leo Ducey, New Hampshire State Police Colonel Frederick H. Booth, and Chief Stephen M. Agrafiotis of the Hooksett Police Department, announced that Michael Moody, age 33, of Concord, New Hampshire was sentenced yesterday in U.S. District Court in connection with the Distribution of Cocaine during 2003 and 2004.

During a hearing before U.S. District Judge Joseph A. DiClerico, Jr., Moody was sentenced to a term of 70 months in prison and five years probation. Moody had previously admitted his guilt to an Indictment filed by the United States that charged him with possessing one kilogram of cocaine with intent to distribute in September, 2004 and engaging in a conspiracy with others to distribute five to fifteen kilograms of cocaine between January, 2003 and September, 2004.

United States Attorney Colantuono stated, "This case represents another example of sound inter-agency cooperation to stop the flow of illegal drugs into New Hampshire and this office will continue to work vigorously toward that goal."

The successful prosecution of this case resulted from the efforts of the DEA, the NH State Police, and the Hooksett Police Department. This case was prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert J. Veiga.
